ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852.

WHEELING, W. VA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1893.

VOLUME XLI-NUMBER 127.

atatesman.

BOTH OF THEM WIN.

landen and Faulkner Make a Combine After all the Talk.

CAMDEN IS TO SUCCEED MR. KENNA

And Faulkner will Remain where he has Been Six Years.

ALL IS HARMONY WITH A BIG

The Caucus turns out to be a Regular Democratic love feast, and everybody is Enthusiastic and all that, The Republicans will Nominate the Men to be Complimented with the Minority Vote at a Caucus to be Held To-night - Legislative Pro-

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Jan. 17 .- The n to-night from a Democratic tandpoint was expressed by Governorlect MacCorkle in his speech at the love feast which followed the caucus, when he said: "I have witnessed the milienium of the West Virginia Demeracy-Charles J. Faulkner and Johnon N. Camden are the Democratic nominees for the two United States senatorships, the former to succeed simself and the latter to serve out the ate Senator Kenna's unexpired term.'

It did not take the caucus ten minstes to decide the matter, for about five ours before the caucus met the com-dications, which had grown so serious accemid night last night as to threaten the party with disruption, were adjust-ed and an amicable arrangement made insuring the nomination of both gentle-insuring the nomination of both gentlemen by acciamation.

When the last hanger on in the hotel labby went to bed last night the contest, which it was thought earlier had been settled by a compromise between the two factions, was on as big as ever. This morning an agreement seemed a remete possibility.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the clouds suddenly cleared away and a happy se-

At 2 clock this afternoon the clouds saidenly cleared away and a happy solution of the problem had been reached. Governor Fleming, ably assisted by Secretary of State Onley, was the peacemaker to whom is largely due the credit of bringing about the result of to-light's caucus. It came about in this wise:

The complications resulting from Senator Kenna's death and the entry of numerous candidates for the unexpired term were increased by the stimulation. term were increased by the attempts on the part of both candidates for the long term to make combinations.

Of all the short term candidates Joseph E. Chilton was the strongest, and by general opinion he was conceded to by general opinion he was conceded to be the leading man.

Up to a late hour last night Mr. Camden and his friends persistently refused to entertain any proposition with a view to dividing the honors with Mr. Faulkner, and the fight narrowed to a point where it ppeared that Chilton held the key to the situation. He could combine with either Faulkner or Camden and insure the election of either to the long term and himself to the short one. The fight between Camden and Faulkner was very bitter, to the short one. The fight between Camden and Faulkner was very bitter, and a compromise seemed out of the question. One or the other must be defeated, and the question who should fill out Mr. Kenna's term must take care of itself.

That was the situation late at night.

Then Governor Fleming came on the defeat of either Camden or Faulkner meant disaster to Democratic harmony. After a conference with Secretary Ohley, who had been endeavoring to bring about an amicable adjustment of the difficulty, Governor Fleming went to Mr. Camden and presented the problem to him in a new light. The canvass of the situation, he said, had satisfied him that there could be but one solution of the difficulty, which meant so much to the inture of the Democratic party. He was sure that it was the desire of a was sure that it was the desire of a majority of the members of the legislature to send both gentlemen to the sen ate. Mr. Faulkner could not accept the ale. Mr. Faulkner could not accept the short term. It would under the circumstances be a humiliation which no self respecting man should be expected to undergo. Mr. Camdon could with refrect propriety, and without sny humiliation or loss of self respect, accept the short term.

Mr. Camdon considered the matter, and said finally that in the interests of harmony and the Democratic party he would be willing to settle the affair in the manner suggested. He would leave it to his friends to decide. Several of them were present and saw the force of Gevernor Fleming's arguments. A conference was immediately arranged with Mr. Faulkner, and at midnight last night that gentleman signified his last night that gentleman signified his willingness to settle on the basis pro-

There was one obstacle, Mr. Faulkner There was one obstacle, Mr. Faulkner had entangled himself with Mr. Chillon, and the question was to got that sentleman out of the way. He could not make an agreement with Mr. Canden unless Mr. Chilton retired from the field for the short torm.

Chilton was sent for. During the the sidd for the short torm.

Chilton was sent for. During the night he had canyassed his strength. He found that he was strong enough to held the key to the situation and had after consulting with Senator Sommerville and Major Stalnaker, two of Mr. Canden's managers, discovered a possibility of making a combine by which a Canden-Chilton slate might ge Camden's managers, discovered a possibility of making a combine by which a Camden-Chilton slate might go through. He declined to get off the track, and all arrangements between Camden and Faulkner were at an end. This was the situation this morning.

At 9 o'clock Mr. Camden in person renewed negotiations with Mr. Faulkner. He was willing to make the compromise unconditionally, except that he asked for fair treatment, that is, he only required from Mr. Faulkner a pleage that their interests should be any required. He was in a position to prevent a caucus to-night or a decision in caucus should one be held. If he could be assured that faith would be kept with him his friends would sign the call for the caucus and he would go in, not as a candidate for Faulkner's place, but as a candidate for Faulkner's place, but as a candidate for the unexpired term. No arrangement could be made, however, for Art. Unition, on being consulted, declared that he was a candidate for the short term, and would retire in no man's favor. He was certain of the nomination and was ready to go into nomination and was ready to go into the caucus.

It looked for a time as if the fight was sgain on. Friends of Mr. Chilton who were anxious to see harmony restored finally convinced him that his course should be otherwisely in view of the possibilities of the future. No pledges were made to him, but he was convinced that the opportunity presented itself to make nimself a nopular choice in 1894. He yielded at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and the whole matter was at an end. an end.

The news was immediately carried to

The news was immediately carried to the hotel lobby, and from that on until the caucus, which was nothing more than a ratification meeting, the settle-ment was the sole topic of conversation. Democrats generally expressed them-selves as satisfied, but there were dis-appointed ones. Ex-Governor Wilson was one of them. He took his defeat was one of them. He took his defeat with good grace, however.

At the caucus to-night he made a remarkable speech, and amid tremendous applause, paused and stepping up to Senator Faulkner took him by the hand and said: "If Mr. Camden were here, I would be proud as a Democrat to take him also by the hand."

William L. Wilson was a factor in the fight until it was settled, but the principals on the ground did not know it. Early this morning a telegram was received from him by the Camden people, asking about the situation, and saying his personal representative would arrive in Charleston to-morrow. Later his personal representative would arrive in Charleston to-morrow. Later another came saying four friends would be here, and asking if the report was true that Camden and Faulkner had combined. This was a few minutes after the final settlement, and Colonel McGraw wired him that his day was past, that he had lost his opportunity and that Camden and Faulkner would be nominated to-night. Had Mr. Wilson's dispatch been received last night, it is safe to say Camden never would have made his overtures to Faulkner and the nominees to-night would have been Camden and Wilson or Camden and Chilton. The old kicking element, who were uncompromisingly opposed to who were uncompromisingly opposed to Mr. Camden under all circumstances are trying to eat their crow with good grace, but make a poor show of it.

Now comes the tug of war for the federal places, and for appointments under the state administration. Many promises have been made during the light by both Camden and Faulkner. There is bound to be a clash and inter-esting times are ahead. G. A. D.

THE CAUCUS SOON OVER.

Senator Faulkner Talks-Mr. Chilton is Received with Applause.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Jan. 17 .- At eight o'clock to-night the Democratic caucus was called to order in the hall of the house of delegates by Senator C. C. Watts, who nominated Mr. U. B. Finley for chairman. Mr. Finley was unanimously elected and took the chair. The clerks of the two houses were elected secretaries. The chairman then called for the reading of the call, which was signed by every Democrat of both houses, except Senator St. Clair, who was not in the city.
Upon a call of the roll it was found

Upon a call of the roll it was found that every member of the caucus was present except Mr. St. Clair. Sonator Wiley read a telegram from the senator, stating that he was unable to be present owing to the fact that he had missed the train at Cincinnati.

The hall was crowded with spectators, and Senator Shephard moved that all except Democratic members of the house and senators be excluded from the floor. An amendment was offered that spectators be confined to the gal-that spectators be confined to the gal-lery. Both the motion and its amend-ment were voted down, and the result was greeted by enthusiastic applause by was greeted by enthusiastic applause by the lobby.

The business for which the caucus was called was then proceeded with, and Senator Wiley introduced a resolution to the effect that Charles J. Faulkner and Johnson N. Camden be declared the Democratic nominees for United States senator, long and short terms, respectively.

The resolution was adopted without debate, and the great Faulkner-Camden contest was at au end.

debate, and the great Fallkner-Cameen contest was at an end.

Senator Watts moved that a committee be appointed to wait on the nominees and bring them before the caucus. The motion was carried amid applause. Senator Wiley announced that Mr. Camden was suffering from a severe cold and could not leave the hotel, but leave the Paulkner was present. cold and could not leave the notel, but Senator Faulkner was present. Senator Watts introduced the senator with a happy speech, which was greeted with applause. As Senator Faulkner arose to speak he was tendered an enthusiastic ovation. He made a brief speech thanking the caucus tor its action, which he construed as an endorsement of his course in the United States senate, and congratulating the Domography. ment of his course in the United States senate, and congratulating the Demoratic party on the fact that for the first time in a quarter of a century it is soon to be in possession of both branches of Congress. After discussing at some length the issues before Congress which divide the parties, he retired. He made no reference to his late competitor, Mr. Camden. Joseph Chilton was loudly called for. As the popular young Kanawahan came forward the caucus, galleries and lobby were wild. Mr. Chilton's speech was a graceful tribute to the action of the caucus, and when he retired there was an outburst of ento the action of the caucus, and when he retired there was an outburst of en-thusiasn.

Ex-Governor Wilson, Governor Flom-ing, Governor-elect MacCorkle and oth-ers were called on in turn, and then the "love feast" ended.
G. A. D.

THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

Routine Proceedings Yesterday-Addition al Committees,

Special Dispatch to the Intelligent

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Jan. 17 .- The announcement of the committees by Speaker Shaw and the introduction of bills constituted all the business of the house to-day. After the reading of the journal the speaker announced the following additional committee appoint ments:

Roads and Internal Navigation—Goad, Chambers, Davis (Alvin), Harper, Shelton, Trout, Hott, Workman, Nekinney, Hunter, Koonta, Burgess, Athiuson, Uriffith, Wickenhoffer, Pentisndary—Prince, McGung, Inhad, Shimate, Thomas, Course, Austin, Wickenhoffer, Holle, Akinson, Gaines, Austin, Wickenhoffer, Holle, Akinson, Humane Institutions and Public Buildings—Dandridge, Holt, Shumate, Davis, Smith Ct., U. Kane, Vrooman, Hayes, Lively, Hoff, Greer, Andrewson, Bornath, Harley, Rilly, Rallroads—Hamford, Lively, McCallister, Goad, O'Rane, Walker, Chambers, Trout, Floydod, O'Ran, Walker, Chambers, Trout, Floydod, Clark (J. 7), Shumate, Prince Holt, Hays, Troyman, Smith Ct. 11, Hoff, Harley, Gramm, McKinney, Clark (J. 7), Shumate, Prince Holt, Hays, Troyman, Smith Ct. 11, Hoff, Harley, Gramm, Mines and Mining—Thomas, Prince, Brock, Daniels, Shumate, Allen, Gamble, Hansford, Greer, Davis (T. P.), Wickenhodter, Wells, Hart-meyer and Huaton (H. C.) Printing and Contingent Expenses—Johnston, Chalruna.

chairman, Military Affairs—C. L. Smith, chairman, Labor — Messrs, Imhoff, Hammett, Goad, Fhomas, Allen, Daulels, Hoff, Austen, Wills, Wickenhoffer, Davis (T. P.), Cook and Bowman.

Judge Maxwell offered a resolution Judge Maxwell oldered a resolution directing the committee on privileges and elections to recount all the votes cast in Ohio county in November, 1892, for members of the house of delegates, and ascertain whether M. J. O'Kane or S. G. Smith received the greater number of votes.

of votes.

Immediate consideration of the reso lution was objected to and it went over lution was objected to and it went over one day.

A number of bills were then introduced, among them the following:

By Mr. Wilson, concerning what are lawful fences; also a bill to establish a criminal court in Ohio county.

By Mr. McCallister, amending the charter of the town of Guyandotte.

By Mr. Greer, providing for the punishment of embezziement by servants of private persons or corporations and by officers and agents and employes of officers.

officers.

By Mr. Hoff, to regulate the manner of examining teachers and making one certificate good throughout the state, By Mr. Gaines, to govern boards of examiners in the several counties of the

By Mr. Daniels, fixing the age of con-sent at twelve years.

The senate was in session only a half hour to-day, and no business of general importance was done. A half dozen un-important bills were introduced, and the senate adjourned until to-morrow at Charleston Gossip.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.
CHARLESTON, W. VA., Jan. 17.—Major J. C. Alderson is one of the old anti-Camden men who is willing to accept the situation. He cats his crowlike the blg, brave fellow that he is.

At the "love feast" which followed the caucus to-night, Senator Peck, of the Charleston district, sang with great success his farnous song, "West Virginia's Hills." He made a big hit with it diring the campaign when he sang it ia's Hills." He made a big hit with it during the campaign when he sang it on the hustings.

James Holle, of Isincoln county, is slated for superintendent of the penientiary. In this connection Governor MacCorkle is quoted as saying there will be a clean sweep after March 4. None but friends of the new governor will be on guard. Chairman will Chilton will be secretary of state.

Col. Joe Gallaher, of Moundsville, was a busy man to-day. He got in some a busy man to-day. He got in some fine work for Faulkner before the set-tlement of the late unpleasantness.

The governor's reception to the members of the legislature and the newly elected state officers will be held tomorrow night.

Frank P. McNell, of Wheeling, was among to-night's arrivals.

The Republican Caucus. Special Dispatch to the Intelligence

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 17.—The Republican members of the legislature will caucus to-morrow night and decide upon whom they will honor with the senatorial nominations. The drift of soutiment is in favor of Hon, S. B. Elkins for the long term and Hon. Thomas E. Davis for the short term. They will be in all probability nominated unanimously. mously.

Stephen M. White for Senator.

SACRAMENTO, CALA., Jan. 17.—Ballot-ing for United States senator to succeed Charles N. Felton began this afternoon after short nominating speeches. The first ballot in the assembly resulted, White 42, Felton 6; total vote 80—necessary to choice, 41.

Quay Has a Safe Majority

PJTTSBURGH, PA., Jan. 17 .- The Republican caucus this morning nominated Matthew S. Quay for United States senator. The voic was: Quay, 148; Dalzell, 18; Gobin, 1.

Eugene Hale Elected.

Augusta, Me., Jan. 17.—The election of United States senator to-day resulted as follows: Eugene Hale, 28; Arthur Sewall, 1. House—Hale, 95; Sswall, 41. Hale was declared elected.

Collins their Choice.

Boston, Jan. 17.—The Democratic leg-islature cancus decided upon Patrick A. Collins as the party candidate for sena-

Gen. Hawley Renominated.

HARTFORD, CONN., Jan. 17.—James R. Hawley (Rep.) was chosen United States senator to-day at a joint legislative ses-sion.

Senator Gray Safe. Dover, Det., Jan. 17.—Senator Gray was to-day re-elected to the senate without opposition. Advice to Dakota Republicans. BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 17.-The following dispatch was received from Washington to-day: George H. Walsh and Other Republi and the Members of the North Dakota

"The following telegram has been sent to Chairman Spalding at Fargo: "Party organization can be best pro-moted by the operation of the cancus and the supremacy of the majority's will. It is sincerely hoped that the Re-publicans in the legislature will main-tain their organization by following the custom successfully adopted by all po-

custom successfully and custom custom successfully and custom custom

Cleveland Back Home. LAKEWOOD, N. J., Jan. 17 .- Mr. Cleveland returned to the "Little White House" here at 5 o'clock this evening. He was alone and was met at the station he was alone and was metatine station by Mrs. Cleveland, who had been out driving in a new Russian sleigh sent her by Mr. Cleveland.

A. E. Greenwald and Chapman Raphael, of Philadelphia, called upon Mr. Cleveland this evening with letters of introduction from Mr. Whitney and Mr. Harrits. Harrity. The gentlemen came to extend an invitation to Mr. Cleveland to attend the Hebrew charity ball in that city on the last day of this month. Mr. Cleveland said he would make a special effort to be present.

Cardinal Gibbons Chosen

Ross, Jan. 17.—The Vatican has chosen Cardinal Gibbons to be delegate to the Catholic congress at Chicago.

A CASE OF CHOLERA

Found Among German Immigrants in Minnesota Yesterday.

St. Paul, MINN., Jan. 17 .- According to the health department this city today has had a case of genuine Aslatic cholers. Last night the health depart ment received notification by wire of the death of one Engelbert Hoog, a German immigrant on the Zoo train from the east. The health department had Commissioner Sinks at the depot this morning when the train rolled in, and the corpse was removed.

Coroner Whitcomb was called and was greatly surprised at the corpse. He called Dr. Hoyt, the chief of the health department, to assist in an examina-department, to assist in an examina-tion. Both physicians were satisfied that if the case was not absolutely one of cholera it still bore such a close re-semblance to it that immediate stops semplance to it that immediate steps must be taken, and they therefore ordered the immediate disinfection of the body and all baggage accompanying it, and the burial of the former.

Hoog was a young fellow from Baden, Germany. He was in company with four other immigrants, a man, woman and two-bildren, who were bound for and two children, who were bound for Wabashau. All bore clean health cer-tificates from the New York health de-partment. The rest of the party left this afternoon for their destination.

Six Cases of Cholera.

Buda Pest, Jan. 17.—Six cases of cholera have been reported here within the last forty-eight hours.

THE LOTTERY FINDS A HOME. The Republic of Hondurus Cedes it an Island-Quite a Big Deal.

TEGUCIGALPA, HONDURAS, Jan. 9.-The Louisiana state lottery has been granted a charter from the republic of Honduras and will remove its business to that country on the expiration of its present charter, which will be January 1, 1894. The concession is a monopoly of the lottery business for the term of fifty years. The Hondurian government grants to the company the island of Guanaja, in the bay of Honduras, which is to be used in such manner as the company may see fit for its purposes. The government concedes free of cost all lands which may be required for lottery offices throughout the republic of Honduras. All lottery tickets to be issued by the company are to be impressed by the official seal of the Hondurian government and all drawings of the lottery are to be supervised by the government, The Hondurian government, in consideration for the granting of the charter, is to have the free use of a cable line and of the steamship lines and is to receive a million dollars in American gode coin and a ed a charter from the republic of Honship lines and is to receive a million dollars in American gold coin and a graduated percentage of from one to three per cent on the face value of all tickets sold by the company.

FROM MAINE TO FLORIDA

The Extremely Cold Weather is Felt-Ice

Ploes Cause Trouble.

New York, Jan. 17.—According to the oldest inhabitants of Manhattan island this winter has not had an equal in point of severity for thirty-five years. The cold spell to-day extends from Maine to Florida, At Augusta, Maine, it was 20 degrees below zero. At Providence, R. I., it was 22 below, and the same at Worcester, Mass, while at Nashua, N. H., it was 20 degrees below

A dispatch from Cape Henry, Va., says: "The ocean is frozen or packed with ice floes for a distance of three miles from shore. Vessels have to keep well out to sea. Such a display of ice at sea is a rare sight for this latitude."

Heavy ice piled into the Delaware breakwater to-day andthas caused much trouble to shipping.

A COAL FAMINE IMMINENT. New York and Brooklyn Find the Situation

Serious, New York, Jan. 17.—Among the man-ifold effects of the unusually protracted cold weather, that upon the coal supply of this city and Brooklyn has suddenly become very serious. Already large manufacturing plants are running by a process resembling hand to mouth existence, so far as concerns their coal supply.

The whole situation in a nutshell is that the supply of coal on hand in the city is being rapidly diminished, and city is being rapidly diminished, and that fresh supplies cannot be got into the city in quantities large enough to compensate for the depletion.

New York and Brooklyn are consuming at least 20,000 tons of coal a day and probably not more than half that quantity is coming in to replenish the stock.

Coal Scarce at Detroit. DETROIT, Jan. 17 .- There is a slight prospect of a coal fame in Detroit, as there now is in many cities far from a source of supply. The cause of the gen-eral shortage is the increased demand consequence of the prolonged cold Worst Blizzard Yet.

DUNDAS, MINN., Jan. 17 .- The worst blizzard of the winter has been in pro-gress since this morning. The wind is blowing a gale, filling the east and west roads two feet deep with snow.

Fuel Oil Comes High.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 17 .- A special from Findlay, Ohio, says that the Standard Oil Co. has increased the price of Ohio crude oil to 42½ cents a barrel in the northern district and 40 cents in the southern district. This is the highest price ever fixed and it is due to failure of the natural gas supply and the use of oil for fuel. Switchmen's Strike Worse.

Muscis, Ind., Jan. 17 .- The switchmen's strike is getting worse. It has so men's strike is getting worse. It has so affected the steel and iron works that the last one banked its fires tonight. The Thiel detective agency of St. Louis brought a car load of men today, but the strikers prevented them from going to work. Superintendent Hill refuses to confer with the strikers or talk arbitration. If outsiders are put to have the artitrations assessment will go out. on here the entire system will go cut.

One Man Boasted Alive. KHOKUE, IA., Jan. 17 .- The first sec-

KERKUK, IA., Jan. 17.—The first section of the California limited, on the Santa Fe, was derailed five miles east of Medill, Mo., this morning. The dining car rolled down an embankment, caught fire and burned. William Ross, a colored waiter, of Chicago, was roasted alive. Six or eight persons were seriously injured. A broken rail caused the wreck,

R. B. HAYES IS DEAD.

The Ex-President Passed Away a a Late Hour Last Night

AFTER HIS VERY BRIEF ILLNESS.

Neuralgia of the Heart the Cause of his Sudden Death.

THE FAMILY WAS VERY RETICENT

And the Fact that he was Dead was not Learned Outside the Household for Some Time-The Progress of his Malady in its Last Stages-Earlier Reports of his Condition gave Encouragement that he would Recover-A Good and Faithful Man Gone to his Eternal Roward.

From his Latest Photograp

FREMONT, O., Jan. 17 .- Ex-President R. B. Hayes died at 11 o'clock to-night, but the fact of his death was not learned for some time later, as everything was kept exceedingly quiet in the vicinity of the Hayes mansion.

The early report that the condition of ex-President Hayes was improving and that he was now resting easily allayed most of the uneasiness, so that the sudden appearance of Webb Hayes with the announcement that his father with the announcement that its authorized had just died proved a shock to all.

From Mr. Hayes, it is learned that the condition of his father took a suden change early in the evening and rapid dissolution followed.

rapid dissolution followed.

The members of the Hayes family have all along been exceedingly reticent concerning the condition of Gen. Hayes and the attending physician has also followed the same course. The exact seriousness, therefore, could not be ascertained, although the Associated Press representative, fully cognisant of the danger of the malady and aware of the extreme precaution of the family, has kept close watch on all of the movements of the family and physician.

The reporter has just interviewed a personal friend of the family, who made the following statement:

The reporter has just interviewed a personal friend of the ismily, who made the following statement:

"On Monday, January 9, General Hayes went to Columbus on State university business connected with manual training, he being a member of the board of trustees. He stopped with his nices, Mrs. General Mitchell. Thursday morning, he left Columbus for Cleveland, where he visited the university with reference to sequering an instructor to take charge of the manual training department in the state university. He remained in Cleveland with his son Webb Friday and Saturday, and left there Saturday afternoon for Fremont. He was driven in a close carriage to the union depot, where his son joined him and immediately after entering the car he complained of cold and asked for stimulants. He finally consented to leave the and asked for stimulants, finally consented to leave car and went into the waiting roo where stimulants were given him. These so revived him that he insisted where stimulants were given him. These so revived him that he insisted upon returning to the train, saying he must go home.

"I would rather die in Spiegel Grove," said he, "than live anywhere else."

After his return to the car he was seized with violent pains in the chest, which lasted until after his return home. He was treated for angina pectoris, but while relieved of distress his heart never recovered its vigor and life was suddenly terminated by paralysis of the heart. While lying in his own room he froquently referred to a visit made to his wife's grave on the preceding Sunday, and spoke of the quiet beauty of the snow-covered scene. He said he almost wished he was lying there by the side of his wife. It was all so peaceful, "and yet," he said, "I am not unhappy. My life is an exceptionally happy one."

His last words were: "I know I am going where Lucy is," spoken to his family physician with the utmost samestness. Early in the evening there was every reason to suppose that the patient would pass a comfortable night and the family retired to rest. He passed quietly and painlessly sway, surrounded by the members of his

He passed quietly and painlessly away, surrounded by the members of his

The funeral services will be held Friday, and General Hayes will then be placed beside his beloved wife in Oakwood.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Jan. 17.—A News special from Jeffersonville says: The situation on the Ohio grows more serious every hour. It is solid from end to end and a sudden thaw would sweep millions of dollars worth of property out of existence. Worst of all a coal famine of existence. Worst of all a coal famine has set in. Coal is worth $5 a cart load, while millons of bushels lie in sight, but hemmed in by the gorge. It is no better below. The steamer Guiding Star is stranded at New Madrid, sharing the fate of almost all the coal here. There has not been such a condition since 1855.

Doubt of his Saulty.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—Howard Schneider, sentenced to be langed Friday next for the murder of his wife, will not be executed on that day. The court in general term this morning decided that there is such a doubt as to the condemned man's sanity as to warrant a postponement of the execution and an inquiry as to his mental condition.

MR, BLAINE'S CONDITION.

He is no Better and no Worse than on Monday Night,

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17,-Up to half past seven o'clock this morning there was no change to be noted in Mr. Blaine's condition. The house had been closed all night and neither doctor nor any one else had either entered or left it, which would indicate that the night had been a comfortable one for the stateman.

Dr. Johnston left the house at 9 p. m.
He says the condition of Mr. Blaine is unchanged since that of this morning.
His pulse was fairly good. Dr. Johnston will not return to the residence tonight unless summoned by some unfavorable turn in the condition of the nationt.

patient.
There was more than the usual number of lights burning in the Biaine mansion to-night, which gave rise to reports that Mr. Blaine was not so well. These reports could not be confirmed or denied, as the mansion was closed for the night. At 10:20 o'clock the physicians had not returned, which is evidence that no radical change for the worse had occurred.

TROUBLE WITH EGYPT.

Russia and Turkey Believed to be In-triguing against Great Britain. London, Jan. 17.—A hurriedly con-vened cabinet council was held this afternoon. The unexpected call for a conference caused a decided sensation at the clubs, where it was conjectured that action was to be taken in regard to the sudden spirit of independence that action was to be taken in regard to the sudden spirit of independence displayed by the khedive of Egypt in changing his ministry without having first obtained the consent of the British government. The British representative at Cairo declines to recognize the new ministry, and the khedive refuses to make any changes in it.

A long telegram from Mr. Cromer, the British representative at Cairo, was received at the foreign office early this afternoon. Soon afterward the Russian and French ambassadors and the German charge d'affairs called upon Lord Roseberry, the foreign minister, and a somewhat heated conversation took place. What was said during the visit has not transpired. At 3:15 the summons for a cabinet council at 5 o'clock was issued.

The council rose at 6:35, after resolved was issued.

The council rose at 6:35, after resolving unanimously to treat the Khedive with the utmost firmness.

The ministers decided to inform him in a distinct manner that his position as the ruler of Egypt depends upon the good will of Great Britain, and that the good will of Great Britain, and that the British government will refuse to recognize the reactionary ministry that he has appointed.

It is believed that Mr. Cromer's message attributed the Khedive's action to concerted Russian and Turkish intrigues.

The British in Egypt.

CAIRO, Jan. 17 .- Mr. Cromer, the British representative in Egypt, to-day informed the khedive that Great Britian expected to be consulted by the Egyptian government in all the important steps to be taken by it, and especially in changes in the ministry.

The British government, he added, would never sanction the appointment of Fakrhi Pasha as president of the council. It is a well known fact that Fakrhi Pasha is opposed to the English occupation of Egypt.

"MONTE CARLO" WELLS.

The Man-Who Broke the Bank May Have to Break Stone Yet. London, Jan. 17 .- Charles Wells, commonly known as "Monte Carlo Wells," arrived from France to-day in the cus-tody of detectives, and was arraigned at the Bow street police court on twelve charges of fraud, amounting to 45,000 pounds. Wells is famed in music hall lore as "the man who broke the bank at Monta Carlo."

lore as "the man who broke the bank at Monte Carle."

Wells is fifty years of age. His profession was supposed to be that of a civil engineer and patent agent. He claimed that he had broken the bank through working an infallible system. He published a pamphlet setting forth the details of it. He advertised for a partner with heaps of money, promising a golden reward at the expense of the administrators of the great gambling casino. He believed, or affected to believe, in the run of sequence at roulette, but so far as is known, Wells did not get his partner. He everlooked one point, which doubtless provented a partner from coming forward. By following the sequence of the table it became possible to acquire wealth. What need was there for great capital to start the operation? Some time after Monte. the operation? Some time after Monte Carlo had made Weils an object of com-mon talk he began to figure rather un-pleasantly in law court reports. He was repeatedly sued for money, which, it was alleged, he had obtained by shady practices.

AFTER THE ROYALISTS.

The French Government Alleges that a Conspiracy Exists.

Panis, Jan. 17.—The government will will soon strike a blow. It is reported on excellent authority that there is now ample evidence of a royalist conspiracy, and that arrests will be made at an and that arrests will be made at an early date. The conspiracy has been hatched in London and Madrid, and the Count of Carls, instead of having been especially close in expenditures of late for the royalist cause, has been unusually lavish. He is not himself managing any details, and it is not desired that he should, but his leading representatives are more action. Can ever sontatives are more active Gam ever.

Royalist influence and funds have had much to do with the recent activity in revolutionary circles in Paris, and it is reported that much of the appliance of the extremist speakers at the Tivoli Vauxiall was furnished by paid royalist clauders.

ist claquors. De Cassagnae gets Battled. PARIS, Jan. 17.—Deputy Paul De Cassagnac appeared before the parliamentary commission of inquiry and behaved so truculently that several behaved so traculently that several times it required the combined per-suasiveness of Chairman Brisson and his collesgues to calm him and indues him to proceed coherently with his testimony.

Weather Porecast for To-day. For West Virginia, Western Penneyiwala and Ohio, snow and warmer, except outder in Western Ohio, snow and warmer, except outder in Western Ohio; outliessnessly winds, changing to northwesterly to-night.

JEMPERATURE VOSTERDAY, druggist, sooner Market and Fourtounts streets.